2024 Application Guide

CUFE's International Chinese Language Teachers Scholarship Master's Programs in Chinese+Finance/+International Business/+Engineering and Project Management/+Journalism and Communication

Central University of Finance and Economics (hereafter CUFE), as one of China's key universities under the direct leadership of the Ministry of Education, enjoys the patronage of both the central and municipal governments, including the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Finance, and Beijing municipal government. It is listed in Project 211 and also among the first universities to enter Project 985 Innovation Platform, whose objective is to promote scientific research of high-priority areas in the fields' top institutions.

CUFE is selected into the Double First Class Initiative, a national project with the goal of fostering world standards in China's universities, whose applied economics is rated A+ by the Ministry of Education in the fourth round of national academic evaluation.

CUFE has 92 master's programs, which has 16 first-level disciplines of academic master's programs such as public administration, law, sociology, and management science and engineering as well as 19 professional master's programs such as business administration, accounting, law, public administration, finance, and auditing, etc.

CUFE's International Chinese Language Teachers Scholarship is a scholarship program jointly established by Central University of Finance and Economics and MOE's Center for Language Education and Cooperation (hereafter MOE's Center) in 2019. The scholarship provides funding for four master programs: Chinese+Finance, Chinese+International Business, Chinese+Engineering and Project Management, and Chinese+Journalism and Communication. Offered in Chinese, the 2-year master's scholarship program plans to admit 60 students in total in 2024.

Important Reminders on Application Documents

All application documents must be in Chinese or English. Documents not in Chinese or English must be notarized and translated into Chinese or English. Application documents will NOT be returned regardless of admission status.

All documents submitted must be true, accurate, and complete. CUFE reserves the right to withdraw the admission notice or expel enrolled students otherwise.

Evaluation

Applicants who have passed academic document review will be shortlisted for online interviews. The interview time will be sent by e-mail. Therefore, the email address left in the application system must be the applicant's personal email, authentic and permanently valid.

Admission

According to the interview results, CUFE should select the best candidates and report to the MOE's Center, which will organize the expert review.

CUFE will officially release CIS final results after the expert review.

Review of Documents

After admission results are released, CUFE will conduct another round of document review. If violations are found, the university reserves the right to withdraw the admission notice and cancel the applicant's admission.

Registration

According to the rules and regulations of China's Ministry of Education, CUFE requires that all international students (including scholarship students) purchase comprehensive group insurance in mainland China. Students should pay for their health insurance fees before the registration date.

Admitted Scholarship students must register during the time specified in the admission notice. Students who fail to register by the deadline without justifiable reasons will be regarded as giving up the admission. Registration time: early September 2024 (Please refer to the admission notice for the registration date).

Evaluation and Re-evaluation of Admission Qualifications

CUFE will evaluate and re-evaluate students' admission qualifications upon and after registration. If admission notice, personal information, or other documents are found to be inaccurate during the evaluations or if fraud and other similar circumstances exist, the student will be disqualified and admission will be cancelled.
